Writing Inquiry Collaboration Organization Reading

Highlighted Strategy: E-Binders

Students who organize their materials develop and use processes, procedures, and tools to study effectively; are prepared for courses; participate during instruction; interact with instructors; and self-direct, self-evaluate, self monitor, and self-advocate.

E-Binders = Organization

Examples & Tips	Teacher's Take	Dean's Challenge (9/23 – 10/11)
Possible resources for E-Binders: OneNote &amp; Google Apps Other proven organizational tools: Interactive Notebooks, Planners, Portfolios, Graphic Organizers 	Q: How does organization benefit student achievement? A: "I often tell my students that we don't plan to fail, but often fail to plan. Similar to a Ben Franklin quote so I can't take full credit for it. Keeping their agendas up-to-date and all of their important documents in one place allows students to spend less time looking for missing assignments and more time studying and doing things they enjoy" -- Leslie Haymon	Capture a pic of your students living/showing "organization matters".
